Purposes: 'the advancement of the arts, heritage, culture or science'

What the charity does: EAF cultivates connections between artists, collaborators and communities to develop contemporary visual art projects in Edinburgh. In August, we present the UK's largest annual visual art festival that is deeply rooted in the city and Scotland, with global dialogue. We amplify intersectional voices and perspectives. To achieve our Purpose, we have set 6 Aims for 2024 to 2028: ? To develop a multidisciplinary Festival that is innovative, intersectional and led by our Values, nurturing vision from artists and partners. ? To increase and provide a platform for equity in the projects we produce, the way we work, and the people we engage, with commitment and empathy. ? To convene and connect partners locally and globally. ? To produce work informed by research, advocacy, and our connected partnerships. ? To be agile, responsive and adaptive to our environment, with care and support. ? To ensure organisational resilience through strategic planning, self-reflection and
