Activities

Activities: 'It carries out activities or services itself'

Purposes: 'the advancement of citizenship or community development'

What the charity does: We are a community conservation charity based in Lochaber in the West Highlands of Scotland. Our aim is to look after and manage Ben Nevis and the surrounding area. As a natural and cultural environment attracting over 150,000 visitors every year, the Nevis area needs sensitive management to maintain and protect its unique landscapes, flora, fauna and wildlife. We do this via volunteer activities such as path repair days, removal of invasive species and litter picks,. We also organise events related to the natural history of the area.

Beneficiaries: 'No specific group, or for the benefit of the community'

Objectives: To safeguard, restore, enhance, manage and promote awareness, enjoyment and appreciation of the natural and cultural heritage and landscapes, including their wild country characteristics, of the Nevis area of Lochaber, in ways which are sustainable and contribute to the wellbeing of the local and wider Lochaber communities.

Geography

- Main operating location: Highland
