Structure, governance and management

Type of governing document

The charity is a Scottish Charitable Incorporated Organisation, governed by a constitution approved by OSCR on 19th May 2014. Membership is open to all residents of the Shetland island of Yell over the age of 16 who make a commitment to support its objectives and activities.

Trustee recruitment and appointment

Members are responsible for electing the Board of charity trustees at the AGM, which is usually held in October or November. To be eligible for election, a person must be a Member of the SCIO and not debarred from acting as a charity trustee, and signs a form to confirm this. The Board is normally composed of about 10 charity trustees, and under the constitution further trustees may be co-opted to the Board as and when required up to a maximum of 15.

Objectives and activities

Charitable purposes

The organisation's purposes are the generation of funds to support local and national cancer-related charities by the collection, recycling and resale to the public of clothes, books, household goods and bric-a-brac etc. donated by members of the local community.

Summary of the main activities in relation to these objects

Activities:

- (a) To operate, manage and administer a charity shop in Yell.
- (b) To carry on any other activities which further the above object.

Achievements & Performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the financial period

In this past financial year Yell for Cancer Support SCIO has continued trading from our new premises in the former Gutcher cafe, Yell. We renewed the lease of the building to December 31st 2024, and subsequently for a further year. We joined the Charity Retail Association to gain wider knowledge of the charity sector, and to make use of the training opportunities and national advertising promotions, such as Back to School Sustainably and Good Cause Santa Clause.

The shop is still fairly well supported by both the local and wider Shetland community. However, footfall and sales have fallen in this financial year. Despite this we were able to donate £6000 to each of our chosen charities, CLAN and Macmillan Cancer Support.

We held fire awareness training for all volunteers and trustees. Some trustees also attended a webinar on marketing coaching. We engaged with Shaw Marketing to develop an advertising project to provide a more 'corporate' strategy, raise our public profile and hopefully bring in more customers.

We continue to promote the work of our shop through our Facebook page, as well as showcasing items for sale, and now have over 1100 loyal followers, some of whom are regular buyers.

We also produced quiz sheets to raise funds.

We recruited 1 new member, 4 volunteers, and amended procedures (following legal advice) to be able to recruit youth volunteers age 16-18 years.

We revamped the layout of the shop, with new rails and displays.

As always we are indebted to all of our volunteers, members and trustees and those who have helped in any way.

Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

After approving the accounts, the Board makes a decision about how much we can afford to donate to our chosen charities, whilst leaving sufficient funds to cover our running costs for the next year. We regard this as a prudent and responsible way to manage the charity and the expectations of the public.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner	The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) 2005 Act ('the Act 2005') and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended)('the 2006 regulations'). The charity trustees consider that the audit requirement of Regulation 10(1) (d) of the 2006 Regulations does not apply. It is my responsibility to examine the accounts as required under section 44(1) (c) of the 2005 Act and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.
Basis of independent examiner's statement	My examination is carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the 2006 Regulations. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeks explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and, consequently, I do not express an audit opinion on the accounts.
