CEO's Welcome Message

If 2025 taught us anything, it's that the United Kingdom is crying out for truth. Not slogans. Not spin. Truth.

Addiction in Britain today is not a fringe issue. It is a national wound that cuts across class, community, faith, and family. Nearly 6,000 people in England and Wales lost their lives to drugs in the last year the highest number ever recorded. Scotland continues to battle the highest drug-death rate in Europe. Northern Ireland faces rising harm from benzodiazepines and synthetics. Wales carries the second-highest rate of drug deaths per head in the UK.

But behind every statistic is a human being desperate for hope, and behind every grieving family is a system that too often failed them long before the worst happened.

And yet, this is the part our movement understands, recovery is alive across the UK. You can feel it in community centres, churches, prisons, recovery cafés, mutual-aid rooms, and at kitchen tables where the battle for hope is often fought quietly, fiercely, and with love.

This year's UK Recovery Walk in Wolverhampton showed that spirit in full voice. A city opened its doors, recovery organisations stood shoulder to shoulder, and thousands walked through the streets saying loudly what too many in authority whisper: people can and do recover, and every person deserves the chance.

At Faces & Voices of Recovery UK, our mission has never been modest. We want a UK where the poorest have the same right to treatment as the wealthiest. A UK where the treatment system adapts to people, not the other way round. A UK where recovery is expected, not exceptional.

Our casework service has grown and not by accident. People don't come to us because everything is going smoothly. They come because they are lost in a maze of assessments, gatekeeping, inconsistent funding, and a culture that has forgotten that recovery is supposed to restore a life, not manage a decline.

We fight for them because theirs and our dignity demands it, the inherent value of every person, the preferential option for the poor, and love expressed through service and truth-telling.

This report is honest. Some parts will make uncomfortable reading. They should. The UK is at a crossroads. We either recommit to genuine recovery, detox, rehab, aftercare, community, connection, purpose, or we continue drifting into a model that keeps people alive but never helps them live.

I know which road we will take.

To everyone who has walked with us, funded us, volunteered, partnered, challenged, supported, prayed, marched, emailed, shared, liked, cried, fought and celebrated with us thank you. This movement runs on courage and community.

Recovery is real.
Recovery is possible.
And recovery is a right worth fighting for.

Executive Summary

2025 was a pivotal year for Faces & Voices of Recovery UK (FAVOR UK).

Across the United Kingdom we saw rising drug deaths, growing mental-health need, and treatment systems struggling to meet the realities of modern addiction. Yet we also witnessed extraordinary resilience, community leadership and a deepening national commitment to recovery.

This report sets out the truth of where we are as a country and the hope of where we can go.

A UK in Need of Recovery

- England & Wales recorded 5,565 drug-related deaths the highest on record.
- Scotland continued to have the highest drug-death rate in Europe.
- Wales and the North East of England saw crisis-level harm from benzos, cocaine and synthetics.
- Across the UK, access to residential rehabilitation remains among the worst in Europe.

Modern addiction is increasingly poly-drug, trauma-driven and mentally complex, yet our systems remain built for a previous era of heroin dependence. There is no evidence base for substituting cocaine, crack, ketamine or benzodiazepines yet many people are pushed through maintenance-first systems that cannot deliver recovery.

The result is predictable: stagnation where there should be hope.

A Movement of Hope

Despite the challenges, 2025 was a landmark year for recovery.

The UK Recovery Walk & Conference in Wolverhampton brought thousands together in solidarity, celebration and truth. The city embraced the movement with pride, hosting Europe's largest recovery event and demonstrating what can be achieved when communities lead with courage.

Our digital reach grew dramatically, with nearly 4 million impressions across platforms, ensuring recovery stayed visible and often framed the national conversation year-round.

Our Advocacy Casework Service supported individuals and families lost in fragmented systems, securing treatment, rehousing vulnerable people and navigating complex cases that bureaucracy alone could not solve. Not one person on our caseload died, a testament to persistence, accompaniment and trauma-aware support

The Moral & Policy Imperative

The UK must return to recovery as the central goal of treatment. Maintenance has a place, but it cannot be the endpoint for most people.

A fair system would offer:

- national access to detox and residential rehabilitation
- person-centred pathways that match need, not postcode
- trauma-responsive care not just informed.
- integrated mental-health and addiction support
- outcome-based commissioning
- community-led recovery support
- truthful reporting and transparent funding

In Scotland, the failure of the National Mission and the blocking & deliberate sabotaging of the Right to Recovery Bill highlight the dangers of systems that protect themselves more than the people they serve. FAVOR UK will continue to campaign for a legally enforceable right to detox, rehab and aftercare and every other evidence based care that people currently have difficulty accessing.

Our Vision for 2026 and Beyond

We are building a UK where recovery is visible, valued and expected.

- UK Recovery Walk 2026 Bradford on Sat 12th Sept 2026. & we are now accepting bids for the UK National Recovery Walk 2027.
- Expansion of national advocacy and lived-experience leadership
- Recovery-Friendly Workplace Accreditation
- Stronger research, policy and public engagement
- A call for a fair, UK-wide treatment system that offers every chance to recover

This work is grounded in the dignity of every human person, the preferential option for the poor, and the belief that compassion means helping people live, not merely survive.

MESSAGE FROM OUR CHAIR OF TRUSTEES

This year has been one of grit, gratitude, and growth for Faces & Voices of Recovery UK (FAVOR UK).

For me personally, being given the opportunity to step into the role of Chair is a genuine honour. I am humbled and inspired by the courage of those FAVOR UK serve and the huge commitment of the volunteers and employees who make our mission possible.

FAVOR UK has never been a charity to recite buzzwords or hide behind bureaucracy, and we have again demonstrated that in 2025. We meet people where they are, tell the truth without varnish, and fight for the kind of recovery-focused system that everyone in this country deserves. This year, we strengthened that resolve. I am proud of what we achieve through our national advocacy service and the huge amount of work which has been put into advancing the Right to Recovery Bill to the finish line. I'm proud that we inspire and empower others as a result of our training programmes and, of course, the amazing UK Recovery Walk - held in wonderful Wolverhampton this year - and now we can include the growing Recovery Friendly Workplace movement. Each strand of our work has carried the same message: recovery is possible, community matters, and no one should be left behind.

I am also proud that FAVOUR UK's voice is growing louder and clearer. We have challenged poor policy with compassion and backbone. We have stood with families navigating the darkest chapters of their lives, and we have continued to model what dignity, solidarity and hope look like in practice.

To our trustees, thank you for your support, guidance and willingness to have the brave conversations. To our staff team, you are the very heartbeat of this charity; your professionalism and humanity shine through everything you do. And to our Chief Executive Officer, Annemarie Ward, thank you for leading with tenacity, humour and your continuous, fierce commitment to recovery. Each of you is proof that long-term recovery is more than an inspiration; it is a reminder of what is possible when people are backed, believed and given real choices.

As we look to the coming year, we do so with humility about the challenges ahead, but also with confidence. The landscape is shifting, and FAVOR UK will continue to help shape it, always guided by the voices of lived and living experience and the simple belief that every life has value.

Thank you to everyone who has walked with us, supported us and trusted us. The work continues, and I am proud to serve alongside you.

2025 A Year in Review

Growth. Courage. National influence.

A NATIONAL CELEBRATION OF RECOVERY

Wolverhampton hosted the UK Recovery Walk for the first time a historic moment for the Black Country and a powerful statement about hope in communities often overlooked. Thousands marched, sang, laughed, cried, held signs, held hands and showed that recovery is not theory. It is lived.

A CONFERENCE THAT RAISED THE BAR

Held at Molineux Stadium, the 2025 UK Recovery Conference brought together experts, lived-experience leaders, academics and families to explore the theme "I Can't, We Can". From Ed Day to Base25, from Good Shepherd to SUIT this was recovery leadership in action.

ADVOCACY THAT CHANGED LIVES

Our casework service supported individuals across the UK caught between trauma, complex needs and systems that simply do not work for them. We saw people who had been stuck for years finally enter rehab. Families found support. Lives stabilised. Futures opened.

A LOUD, NATIONAL VOICE FOR CHANGE

Through Substack, media commentary, public events and our reporting, FAVOR UK became one of the strongest recovery voices in the UK. We challenged harmful narratives, confronted political complacency and defended the truth about recovery.

DIGITAL GROWTH BEYOND EXPECTATION

Nearly 4 million impressions, 22,498 followers and significant growth on every platform. Advocacy content, data-driven posts and recovery stories reached millions many of whom had never heard a message of hope before.

ORGANISATIONAL STRENGTHENING

New trustees, improved governance, strengthened finance systems and deepened partnerships set the foundation for the coming year.

BUILDING FOR BRADFORD 2026

As Wolverhampton showed the country what recovery looks like, Bradford stepped forward. Planning is already underway.

2025 marked a historic moment for the UK Recovery Movement: the Walk came to Wolverhampton for the first time ever. The Black Country embraced the movement with pride, dignity and a fierce sense of community.

THE WALK

More than a parade, this was a public declaration of hope. A two-mile route beginning and ending in West Park, with an accessible adapted route for those with mobility needs. The Walk passed iconic landmarks including Lady Wulfruna, Wolverhampton Art Gallery and Molineux Stadium.

What mattered most was not the geography it was the witness. People walked for their families, their communities, their loved ones lost and for those still struggling.

THE RECOVERY VILLAGE

West Park came alive with music, poetry, art, performance, dance, recovery storytelling and community stalls. From Dhol drummers to Fallen Angel Dance Theatre, from mutual-aid meetings to family activities, it was a living picture of recovery in motion.

ART IN RECOVERY

Supporting the Walk, the Good Shepherd Art Group showcased extraordinary work funded by Arts Council England, including exhibitions at Wolverhampton Arts Centre and a pop-up gallery on the day of the Walk. Art became a gateway to connection, healing and pride.

A SPIRITUAL BEGINNING

St Peter's Collegiate Church opened its doors for a recovery service to honour those we have lost and celebrate those returning to life. It welcomed people of any faith or none, united in grief, gratitude and hope.

THE CONFERENCE

"I can't, WE can"

Held at Molineux Stadium, the conference brought together world-leading clinicians, researchers, frontline staff, people in recovery and lived-experience leaders.

Speakers included:

- Dr Ed Day, UK Recovery Champion
- Rt Hon Pat McFadden MP
- Good Shepherd
- SUIT Wolverhampton
- University of Wolverhampton
- University of Lincoln
- Base25
- Expert witnesses from the recovery community

It was a day grounded in truth: recovery happens in community, not isolation.

NEXT STOP

Bradford 2026 Sept 12th

SAVE THE DATE!

A CITY THAT OPENED ITS HEART

Thanks to the leadership of the Good Shepherd, SUIT, Recovery Near You and the City of Wolverhampton Council, the city did not just host the Walk it owned it. Flyers covered lamp-posts, community groups mobilised their networks and thousands of local people voted to bring the Walk home.

When the result was announced, Wolverhampton did not just win, it roared.

THE LEGACY

The 2025 Walk and Conference did more than showcase recovery in Wolverhampton, it reignited belief across the UK. It showed that recovery is not niche. It is national.

It belongs to every community willing to lead with courage.

The UK Addiction Landscape in 2025: A System Under Strain

The United Kingdom now faces one of the most serious addiction and mental health crises in its history. The numbers are stark and they demand a response rooted in truth, not excuses.

Drug-Related Deaths at Record High

England & Wales

- 5,565 deaths in 2024, the highest ever recorded
- Opioid deaths nearly double the rate of ten years ago
- Cocaine deaths surged to 1,118, a 30% rise
- Poly-drug deaths (cocaine + benzos + alcohol) at unprecedented levels

North East England

- Highest drug-death rate in England
- Among the highest in Europe
- Rehab access below 0.5%

Wales

- Second-highest drug-death rate in the UK
- Rising harms from benzos, synthetics and poly-use

Northern Ireland

- High prevalence of prescription and street benzodiazepine misuse
- Growing concerns around synthetics and trauma-led addiction

Scotland

- Still the worst drug-death rate in Europe
- Residential rehab access around 2%, far below European norms

Treatment System Gaps: A UK-Wide Pattern

The UK treatment system succeeds in engagement but fails in outcomes.

- Only around 46% of people leaving treatment in England do so successfully
- 4,166 people died while in treatment
- Residential rehab is significantly under-used across all four nations
- Disconnection between mental health services and addiction services
- Over-reliance on medication and stability rather than transformation
- Massive regional variation in access to detox and rehab
- No consistent national standards for rehab pathways

A Mental Health Crisis Driving Addiction

Poly-drug use is increasingly tied to trauma, anxiety, depression and unresolved grief. Residential treatment is often the first place a person feels safe enough to address these issues, but access remains rare.

For Too Many Families, the System Is the Crisis

What we hear from every nation is the same:

- “No beds available.”
- “You do not meet criteria.”
- “Try again in six months.”
- “Your area does not fund that.”
- “We do not commission that type of rehab.”
- “This is not a priority.”

The result?

People deteriorate, families break, A&E fills up and the cycle continues.

The UK Needs a Recovery System, Not a Maintenance System

This is the single biggest message we bring to the UK policy conversation:

We cannot manage our way out of an addiction crisis.
We must help people recover out of it.

Reforming UK Drug Treatment: From Maintenance to Recovery

Across the United Kingdom, addiction services have been shaped for 30 years by a model built to respond to heroin dependency: substitution prescribing and long-term maintenance. It was never designed for the reality we face today. The drugs have changed. The harms have changed. The people seeking help have changed. The system has not.

Yet thousands of people are pushed through services that can only prescribe, monitor or “engage” because they lack the tools for genuine recovery

A System Designed for Yesterday's Crisis

Most of the UK's drug-treatment architecture was built around the idea that methadone or buprenorphine could stabilise opioid use long enough for people to rebuild their lives. For some, this remains true and lifesaving.

But this model has been stretched far beyond its evidence base and is now applied to people presenting with:

- poly-drug dependence
- cocaine and crack
- benzodiazepines
- pregabalin
- ketamine
- synthetic cannabinoids
- alcohol dependence with trauma
- complex mental health crises

Here is the truth the UK system has avoided:

There is no evidence base for substituting cocaine, crack, ketamine, benzos, pregabalin or poly-drug use. None.

No NICE guidance.

No international trials.

No successful long-term models.

Yet thousands of people are pushed through services that can only prescribe, monitor or “engage” because they lack the tools for genuine recovery.

The Human Cost of a Mismatched System

When you put the wrong tools to the wrong problem, you do not get stable lives you get stagnation.

We see the consequences everywhere across the UK:

- endless prescribing without progress
- “engagement” without change
- growing numbers stuck in treatment for 5–10, even 25 years
- people discharged for “non-compliance” rather than unmet need
- mental health deterioration masked as “chaotic presentation”
- housing and social care systems overwhelmed
- more emergency admissions
- families burnt out
- lives shrinking rather than expanding

People do not fail treatment. Treatment fails to meet the need.

The Evidence for Recovery-Oriented Systems

Across Europe, countries that invest proportionately in detox, inpatient treatment and long-term recovery-support structures achieve far better outcomes. They measure success not in outputs of scripts or needles issued, but in:

- abstinence
- improved mental health
- employment
- education
- stable housing
- reduced criminal involvement
- stronger families

This is what transformation looks like.

Across Europe, countries that invest proportionately in detox, inpatient treatment and long-term recovery-support structures achieve far better outcomes

The UK Needs a Recovery Renaissance

We must return to a balanced model where maintenance is a bridge, not a destination. The UK needs:

- structured detox pathways
- residential rehabilitation as a core offer
- recovery housing
- mutual-aid integration
- trauma-responsive care (not just informed)
- family support
- peer recovery leaders
- outcome-based commissioning
- national standards for rehab access
- data systems that measure reality, not just prescriptions

This is not ideology, it is evidence and ethics.

Ending the UK's Postcode Lottery: The Case for Fair Access to Residential Rehab

Residential rehabilitation is one of the most effective interventions for people whose addiction is complex, trauma-linked or life-threatening. It provides safety, structure, connection and the space for mental health to stabilise. It is often the first time a person has felt safe enough to breathe, think and heal.

Yet across the UK, access to rehab is defined far more by geography than need.

Rehab Access Across Europe

- Scotland: ~2%
- Portugal: 7%
- European average: 11%
- England (many regions): below 0.5%
- Wales likely under 2% (access to residential rehab remains highly inconsistent)

The UK's lowest-access regions represent the worst rehab accessibility in Europe.

Those are not statistics they are moral indictments.

It Is Not a Bed Shortage It Is a System Failure

Residential beds exist across the UK. The issue is the system around them:

- inconsistent local commissioning
- chronic underfunding
- risk-averse decision-making
- confusing referral pathways
- no national standards
- professional stigma
- fear of "budget exposure"
- regions that simply will not fund rehab
- community teams without a rehab mindset
- "criteria" designed to exclude the very people who need rehab

People are not denied because they cannot be helped.
They are denied because the system has forgotten that freedom from addiction is the goal.

Mental Health and Addiction: A Combined Crisis

By 2025, 85% of rehab residents in UK services reported that mental health was their primary motivation for seeking recovery. Ten years ago, it was 45%.

People understand their own needs.

The system has not adapted.

The Revolving Door

When people cannot access rehab, they spiral through:

- A&E
- police stations
- crisis teams
- psychiatric wards
- unsafe housing
- repeat detox attempts
- relapse
- despair

A survey of rehab residents found:

- 63% attended A&E in the months before rehab
- 40% attended A&E six to ten times each

They were the lucky ones. They actually got in.

Towards a Fair UK System

A genuinely fair system would:

- provide rehab when clinically and personally indicated
- ensure national, ring-fenced funding
- create clear pathways from courts, prisons, hospitals and community teams
- adopt trauma-responsive models
- ensure specialist rehab options for women, families and people with complex needs
- integrate mental health and addiction treatment
- measure outcomes, not just engagement
- end the postcode lottery once and for all

Residential care saves lives. But it could save far more if we stopped rationing it.

Residential care saves lives. But it could save far more if we stopped rationing it

Scotland: The Right to Recovery Bill & The National Mission

This section focuses specifically on Scotland because this is where FAVOR UK's policy leadership has been most visible and where the need for reform is most urgent.

The National Mission That Lost Its Soul

Five ministers.
£250 million.
Dozens of reports.
Mountains of rhetoric.

And Scotland still has the highest drug-death rate in Europe.

The so-called National Mission was not a mission, it was a management exercise. A PR programme with invoices attached. A political shield that delivered the appearance of action while the underlying system stayed exactly the same.

Systemic Problems We Documented

- “Rehab” redefined to include detox, stabilisation and medicated beds
- Stabilisation centres with zero international evidence
- Methadone implicated in nearly half of drug deaths
- DAISy failing to capture up to 40% of people
- Millions spent on “knowledge exchange” while beds went unfunded
- MAT Standards that increased bureaucracy, not outcomes
- A Taskforce dominated by the same voices that built the failing system
- £100m allocated for rehab, but only £38m spent
- No transparency about where that £38m actually went

Scotland did not run out of compassion. It ran out of moral clarity.

The Right to Recovery Bill

The Bill was simple:

If you need detox, rehab or aftercare you have a legal right to it.

Not a favour. Not a maybe. Not a postcode-dependent gamble. A right.

It was supported by families, communities, recovery groups and people with lived experience.

It was opposed fiercely by state-funded bodies with conflicts of interest and by a quango class terrified of accountability.

The Bill was voted down not for lack of merit, but because it would have forced a system designed for maintenance to support recovery.

Why FAVOR UK Will Not Let This Go

Because the poorest people in Scotland are denied what those with means can buy privately.

Because rights belong to people, not providers.

Because you cannot manage your way out of a crisis of despair you must help people live. Because families deserve more than condolences and paperwork.

Because recovery is not just possible it is a fundamental right.

And because those who develop the system cannot be allowed to bury its failures.

Our Call

Scotland must return to the Right to Recovery Bill and the UK must follow. Recovery is not an ideology. It is a lifeline.

Advocacy Casework Service

Real Lives, Real Outcomes

The FAVOR UK Advocacy Casework Service continues to be one of the most important, life-changing and quietly heroic parts of our work.

The statistics reflect the reality: it is not people who fail the system it is the system that fails people.

This service, rooted in lived experience and lived-experience recovery advocacy, offers what bureaucracy cannot: accompaniment, advocacy and an unwavering belief that people deserve a future.

Advocacy is Crucial

It exists for one reason: to ensure every person has a fair chance of accessing treatment, regardless of postcode, background or complexity.

In the last year we supported people from across Scotland and the wider UK who were trapped in systems that simply did not meet their needs. Many had been asking for help for years and were met with closed doors, inconsistent advice or bureaucratic delays that would break anyone's spirit.

Our team stepped in with persistence, compassion and a refusal to accept "no" when "yes" was possible.

Key Outcomes This Year

- ♥ People who were stuck for years finally accessed residential rehabilitation.
- ♥ Complex cases involving homelessness, benefits and mental health were resolved.
- ♥ Families received support navigating a system they found overwhelming.
- ♥ Multiple individuals were brought back into safe services within 24–48 hours.
- ♥ Lives were stabilised, hope was restored and, critically, again no one on our caseload died. That is four years running none of our clients have died.

E – 55, Dunbartonshire

E was overwhelmed, isolated and uncertain where to turn. Within 24 hours of contacting us, he was linked with his local addiction service, connected to a recovery café and supported to resolve a benefits crisis that was crippling him.

He is now preparing for rehab and has begun rebuilding social connections that had been lost for years.

G – 37, Glasgow

G sought advice about a historic complaint. We supported him to submit it to the Care Inspectorate, but time limits prevented a formal investigation. Still determined to enter rehab, he faced over a year of stagnation with no movement.

Following our intervention and a formal complaint to his service, his funding was approved within two months. G entered his preferred rehab and regained hope.

Homeless, heartbroken and stuck in community treatment for six months with no progress, S had almost given up on the idea of rehab.

Over four months we attended meetings, advocated consistently and eventually secured funding for a residential placement. After completing treatment, S stabilised quickly and secured private rental accommodation a fresh start, long overdue.

S, 42 – Dundee

Referred by his local team, C needed help understanding treatment options due to mental-health-related processing difficulties.

We accompanied him to appointments, advocated in meetings and connected him to community groups where he felt comfortable and respected. He now feels more confident about recovery than he has in years.

C – 49, Edinburgh

L – 22, Ayrshire

L struggled with alcohol dependency, anxiety and depression. Although approved for rehab, he felt intimidated and unsafe in the unit he visited. His mother was doing everything she could to keep him afloat.

We negotiated on his behalf and secured a placement in a rehab better suited to his needs. He is now engaging and making progress he could not have made otherwise.

T's Story – Two Years On

We first supported T back in 2021, in a long, heart-breaking fight to get her into rehab. She entered treatment in 2023 and transformed her life.

Two years later, she is still clean and sober, thriving in her community, rebuilding family relationships and, incredibly, accepted into college to study Health and Social Care.

Her words say it best:

"I think back to May 2023 when I was broken. Two years on, I am still clean, I am laughing again after 30 years, I am going out with friends, and I am starting my qualification. Maybe one day I will do the kind of work FAVOR UK did for me."

Our Vision for 2026 and Beyond

Building a UK where recovery is visible, valued, and expected

GOAL 1: UK RECOVERY WALK 2026 BRADFORD

Bradford is ready. The city has a proud history of activism, diversity, community strength and lived-experience leadership. 2026 will be a defining year for the Walk, with the city centre hosting the route, a major arts programme and a recovery village that reflects Bradford's cultural richness.

GOAL 3: RECOVERY-FRIENDLY WORKPLACE ACCREDITATION

The Recovery-Friendly Workplace Programme will grow to include: accreditation levels (Bronze, Silver, Gold), workplace training, employer ambassadors, union partnerships, national recognition awards. Our aim is simple: to make the UK a country where recovery is welcomed, not whispered.

GOAL 5: STRENGTHENING COMMUNITY INFRASTRUCTURE

We will support more grassroots groups with: micro-grants, training, toolkits, partnerships, digital support, shared resources. Recovery does not thrive in isolation; it thrives in community.

GOAL 7: SCOTLAND: RENEWING THE RIGHT TO RECOVERY BILL

Our commitment remains unwavering: the poorest communities deserve what the wealthiest can buy access to detox, rehab and aftercare. We will work with partners to return the Bill to Parliament, strengthened by evidence, by lived experience and by the failures of the National Mission.

GOAL 2: EXPANSION OF THE ADVOCACY CASEWORK SERVICE

Our next goal is to expand our advocacy support across the UK, ensuring that individuals struggling to access detox, rehab or mental health support can get the representation they deserve regardless of postcode. This includes: more volunteer advocates, formalised escalation pathways, national training, UK-wide partnerships, stronger integration with families, churches, community groups and mutual aid.

GOAL 4: EVIDENCE, RESEARCH AND TRUTH-TELLING

We will continue to lead with honesty, data and experience. Through reports, Substack publications, public commentary and academic collaboration, FAVOR UK will remain a fearless voice for: outcome-based commissioning, fair access to rehab, reform of broken systems, transparency in public spending, truth in public communication, the moral case for recovery.

GOAL 6: A UK-WIDE CALL FOR JUSTICE

We will continue to push for equal access to treatment across all four nations, ending the postcode lottery that currently defines the UK's addiction landscape.

GOAL 8: FAITH, HOPE AND THE HUMAN PERSON

Grounded in social justice, our vision is for a country where: the poor are prioritised, the vulnerable are protected, the truth is told, systems serve people, hope is not theory, but practice.

2026 will not be easy but it will be hopeful. We will lead with courage. We will speak with clarity. We will act with love. And we will remain, as ever, a movement of ordinary people doing extraordinary things.

I report on the accounts of Faces & Voices of Recovery UK for the year ended 30 April 2025 which comprise the Statement of Financial Activities, the Summary Income and Expenditure Account, the Balance Sheet and the related notes.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

As the trustees you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. The trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under the Regulation 10(1) (a) to (c) of the 2006 Accounts Regulations.

As examiner it is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under s.44(1) (c) of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005;
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

- (1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:
- to keep accounting records in accordance with section 44(1) (a) of the 2005 Act and Regulation 4 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records, comply with Regulation 8 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations have not been met: or

- (2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
