Activities and achievements

Overview

The charity's vision statement remains, "Supporting school staff, chaplains and families to communicate the Christian faith, so that children and young people can make informed choices about beliefs and values". In fulfilling this vision, we focus primarily on encouraging and supporting Christians working in schools, but we also work to support those of any faith working in schools by making resources available for RME/RMPS lessons, cross-curricular lessons, Time for Reflection assemblies. We continue to believe that Christian values have a significant place in Scottish education, not least because of the Christian values on which the Scottish education system was built.

Communication, Networking and Support

In 2024-25 the Management Committee continued the revised communications strategy implemented in the previous year. Quarterly newsletters were issued on topical themes including Scottish Christian Heritage, Additional Support Needs and Learning for Sustainability/Creation Care. Focused prayer letters were also distributed to our subscribers, allowing individual daily prayer points connected to the newsletter themes, staff in schools and the general work of CVE Scotland.

During the year the Management Committee, staff and other volunteers continued to raise the profile of the charity, bringing greater awareness to school staff and school visitors of the support on offer. This involved attending various events including the Evangelical Alliance's What Kind of Nation? 10 years on Parliamentary Reception at Holyrood and their Being Human seminar in East Renfrewshire, the Association of Christian Teachers' Artificial Intelligence in Education online presentation, meeting with [REDACTED] of Cyngor Ysgolion Sul, speaking at the UNITE For Education Igniting Passion, Renewing Purpose Conference and attending the Ralston Community Event.

Our Chair and one of our Trustees hosted a Western Isles Teacher Meet-up in Lewis at the end of June 2025. This was an informal meeting of fellowship and encouragement and also a useful means of gathering feedback on how we can better support teachers and school staff.

To support our school staff and those who work with young people and children, we curated an extensive list of resources from a wider range of organisations to use at Christmas, Easter and as a Christian alternative to Halloween.

To celebrate the 10th anniversary of CVE Scotland, various church organisations were approached to include an article about the charity. Life and Work (monthly magazine of the Church of Scotland) and Stedfast (magazine of the United Free Church of Scotland) both took up our invitation and featured extensive articles on CVE Scotland to help raise awareness of our work within their congregations.

Social media and the CVE Scotland website were used to inform teachers, school staff, parents and chaplains on the consultation paper from the Scottish Government on proposed changes to the current legislation on religious observance (RO) and religious and moral education (RME) in schools.

New information/publicity videos about the work of CVE Scotland, recorded at Hamilton College, were uploaded on our website during the year. These can be used to share awareness of how the charity equips, networks and resources those in Scottish education who desire to see Christian values remain an integral part.

In February 2025, CVE Scotland hosted an on-line webinar event led by Paul James-Griffiths (Director of Christian Heritage Edinburgh) on godly Scottish men and women who have transformed society, with the aim of sharing their impact with children and young people. A short Q&A session also followed the session.

In reaction to the national debate over the Netflix TV series Adolescence and the announcement that it would be made available to show in Scottish schools, CVE Scotland published a review of content for Christian parents and teachers in April 2025.

School Chaplaincy

Our school chaplaincy project leader, [REDACTED], participated in the Baptist Union of Scotland Chaplaincy Conference Day in September, providing a chance for chaplains from various fields of ministry to benefit from mutual learning and encouragement with a special focus on helping people who are experiencing trauma. Numbers did not permit the Time for Reflection module at the Scottish Baptist College, partially funded by CVE Scotland, to take place this year.

[REDACTED] also had input to the Church of Scotland School Ministry Training Day in November with a focus on supporting resilience and mental health and wellbeing for pupils and from a range of practitioners alongside practical suggestions and opportunities for discussion and reflection.

[REDACTED] continues to contribute research and articles to journals and teach at UK and European-wide conferences, including the Day for Children's Spirituality conference in the Netherlands. He also featured on a radio programme podcast in June 2025, outlining his work with both CVE Scotland and the history of his service in chaplaincy work.

Working alongside various Christian organisations, planning is well underway for two CVE Scotland conferences to support parents, teachers, schools' staff and chaplains engage with their local schools. Catalyst 2025 will be held in Inverness in September 2025 and Ignite in Hamilton in October 2025.

Back to School with God

The charity is involved in the year-round, regular meetings to develop and produce the 'Back to School with God' service materials, together with SU Scotland and SU Northern Ireland which are used throughout the UK and beyond, with over 350 churches registering to use the free materials.

August 2024's theme was 'Spot the Difference' and explored the Bible stories of the blind beggar and Zacchaeus in Luke 18:35-19:10. Holding this event during a Sunday church service is seen as a practical way to encourage children, young people and school staff at the start of a new school year, and to show them that God and His Church are interested in their everyday lives.

Relationships, Sexual Health and Parenthood Project (RSHP)

The final stages of CVE Scotland's RSHP Project were progressed this year. In collaboration with the RSHP working group of Comhairle nan Eilean Siar Local Authority, Early Years, First and Second level resources including full lesson planners were made available to our RSHP mailing list subscribers. Complementary resources, developed by the CVE Scotland RSHP Project Leader were also uploaded to the website.

Plans are currently underway for online Explainer events for staff and parents towards the end of 2025.

Personnel

The Management Committee met regularly throughout the year with a smaller planning group, dealing with operational issues, meeting between Management Committee meetings. They also meet specifically for prayer as a group at various times throughout the year. In April the Management Team worked with external consultants (Trail Consultancy) to consider the Vision and Strategy of the charity into the next 10 years.

The charity is extremely grateful to all the Trustees and other volunteers who help by giving their time, skills and advice throughout the year in many capacities such as serving on the Management Committee, IT support, supporting CVE Scotland on the various social media channels and at events.

A new Senior Administrator with responsibility for Communication was appointed in August 2024 on a 20 hour a week contract.

Fundraising

The Management Committee is grateful to everyone who supported the main fundraising activities organised over the year. This included a 10th Anniversary Classical Concert with Trio 56, a Soup and Pudding Lunch in Lewis (both in October 2024) and a 10th Anniversary Ceilidh in May 2025.

CVE Scotland participated in the 40acts initiative – 40 days, 40 acts and 40 opportunities to do something different at Lent. This generosity challenge was hosted by Stewardship and our daily challenge was featured nationally on 25 March 2025, to encourage and support local schools by sending in a thank-you card or handing in some staff room treats. The activity also generated donations to CVE Scotland by those who subscribed to the initiative.

The charity continues to seek new ways to support our work and this included raising funds on clothing recycling websites.

Financial review

The financial statements for the year are set out on pages 6 to 9. The Receipts and Payments Account on page 6 reflects a surplus for the year of £14,129 (2024: deficit of £37,565). Total reserves, including restricted funds, amounted to £30,059 (2024: £15,930).

The Trustees are grateful for financial support from charitable trusts, churches and individual donors during the year.

Reserves

The Trustees seek to hold funds in reserve to cover six months' unrestricted salary costs plus one year's operating costs. Based on the budget for 2024/25 this amounted to £11,000. Reserves held at the year-end met this reserves target.

The accounts were approved by the Trustees on 22 August 2025 and signed on their behalf by:

I report on the accounts of the charity for the year ended 30 June 2025 which are set out on pages 6 to 9.

Respective responsibilities of Trustees and Examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended). The charity trustees consider that the audit requirement of Regulation 10(1) (d) of the Accounts Regulations does not apply. It is my responsibility to examine the accounts as required under section 44(1) (c) of the Act and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of Independent Examiner's statement

My examination is carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended). An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeks explanations from the trustees concerning such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts.

Independent Examiner's statement

In the course of my examination, no matter has come to my attention

1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:

- to keep accounting records in accordance with Section 44(1) (a) of the 2005 Act and Regulation 4 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations (as amended), and
- to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with Regulation 9 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations (as amended)

have not been met, or

2. to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
