Scotland-Africa Surgical Training (SCIO)

The trustees present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 May 2025. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

The objectives of the charity are:

To advance education of African surgical trainees, nurses and healthcare professionals through the provision of training programs.

To advance the health outcomes of patients in African countries after surgical operations by ensuring those carrying out the procedures are fully trained thus resulting in the relief of symptoms and suffering.

To promote the education and skills enhancement of African surgeons and other healthcare professionals.

To relieve those in need by reason of ill-health by increasing the skills of the local surgeons and health care professionals, thus improving the health and wellbeing of hospital patients.

Significant activities

Income

Income for the year was sufficient to support the objectives of the organisation in its operations. The Trustees would like to thank everyone who donated funds to support the work of the charity in East Africa.

We would also like to thank Johnson & Johnson Ethicon and [REDACTED] of Operation Hernia who donated sutures and ligatures. We are also grateful to the Rotary Clubs of Linlithgow and Culloden and the various local businesses in Lochaber who also donated various items which were of use in promoting the work of the charity in Rwanda. A number of individuals made generous donations to the charity for which we are grateful.

The 2 Basic Surgical Skills Courses and the Training the Trainers course in Rwanda were an outstanding success and attracted participants from throughout Rwanda.

Special thanks must be made to acknowledge the invaluable help from the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh, particularly the Education Section for their support and guidance throughout the past year and the supply free of charge of course materials and access to online training videos.

The surplus funds held by the charity at the end of the financial year are considered sufficient to meet the needs and operating costs of the charity. It is acknowledged that further fund raising will be required to support the planned courses for the financial year 2025 - 26.

Expenditure

The operating expenses were wholly and solely used to cover travel expenses, accommodation and operating costs of running the Basic Surgical Skills and Training the Trainer courses at the University Hospital in Kigali, Rwanda. The operating costs included items ranging from pig organs and trotters used for surgical skills demonstration purposes to basic items such as kitchen towels and disinfectant.

Special thanks should be mentioned to [REDACTED] of Accountants Plus who donated his time to prepare the annual accounts at no cost to the organisation.

The surgical team of [REDACTED] were joined by [REDACTED] from the Skills Centre at the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh. [REDACTED] trained and mentored the 2 technicians in the new purpose built Simulation Centre. The Trustees would like to thank the college who allowed [REDACTED] to go on this visit.

All funds were and have always been used solely in financing the training courses in Rwanda. No remuneration or personal expenses or payment of any kind was paid to any trustee, office bearer, member or individual during the financial year covered by this report. It should be noted that the surgical team who travelled to Rwanda paid for their own flight costs to Rwanda.

Training Courses

The ultimate objective of the training courses is to train the Rwandan medical staff to enable them to ultimately run the training courses on their own with oversight and regulation from the Charity and the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh.

Training the Trainers Course

The primary objective is always sustainability of training. This will not only improve the skill set of surgeons but also create an environment whereby the Consultant Surgeons can deliver the same essential training course as that attended by UK trainee surgeons.

Basic Surgical Skills Course

The junior surgeons who successfully complete the course are awarded the Basic Surgical Skills Course Certificate which is accredited by Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh in partnership with the College of Surgeons of East, Central and Southern Africa. This award is accepted in the UK and worldwide.

In achieving such a high level of success is a measure of the competence and skills of the course leaders.

In addition [REDACTED] provided training to the technicians in the Simulation Centre at the hospital in Rwanda so that they can set up all the equipment and animal tissue to support the courses in the future.

It is with pleasure that the Trustees can report that lives will be saved, changed and improved by the commitment and dedication of those involved in organising and running the courses. The Trustees would like to thank them for giving their time and expertise to make a difference.

The courses could not have happened without the support of the financial supporters and the trustees would like to thank them for their generosity.

A further set of training courses in Rwanda have been arranged for the Autumn 2025.

On behalf of the trustees, I would like to thank everyone who contributed in support the work of the Charity.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Financial position

The Statement of Financial Activities shows a net surplus for the year of £921 (2024: £2,006), and our reserves stand at £4,561 (2024:£3,640).

The surplus funds held by the charity at the end of the financial year are considered to be sufficient to meet the needs and operating costs of the charity. The trustees consider that the reserves in the general fund will enable us to continue to provide and safeguard facilities throughout the next year and future years in accordance with our purposes.

FUTURE PLANS

Future training courses are being arranged due to the success of the courses held in prior years.

Independent Examiner's Report to the Trustees of Scotland-Africa Surgical Training (SCIO)

I report on the accounts for the year ended 31 May 2025 set out on pages six to eleven.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended). The charity's trustees consider that the audit requirement of Regulation 10(1)(a) to (c) of the Accounts Regulations does not apply. It is my responsibility to examine the accounts as required under Section 44(1)(c) of the Act and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of the independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention :

- (1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the requirements
- to keep accounting records in accordance with Section 44(1)(a) of the 2005 Act and Regulation 4 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations; and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and to comply with Regulation 8 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations have not been met; or

- (2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of preparing the financial statements

The financial statements of the charity, which is a public benefit entity under FRS 102, have been prepared in accordance with the Charities SORP (FRS 102) 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019)', Financial Reporting Standard 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland' and the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005. The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention.

Income

All income is recognised in the Statement of Financial Activities once the charity has entitlement to the funds, it is probable that the income will be received and the amount can be measured reliably.

Expenditure

Liabilities are recognised as expenditure as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the charity to that expenditure, it is probable that a transfer of economic benefits will be required in settlement and the amount of the obligation can be measured reliably. Expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis and has been classified under headings that aggregate all cost related to the category. Where costs cannot be directly attributed to particular headings they have been allocated to activities on a basis consistent with the use of resources.

Taxation

The charity is exempt from tax on its charitable activities.

Fund accounting

Unrestricted funds can be used in accordance with the charitable objectives at the discretion of the trustees.

Restricted funds can only be used for particular restricted purposes within the objects of the charity. Restrictions arise when specified by the donor or when funds are raised for particular restricted purposes.

Further explanation of the nature and purpose of each fund is included in the notes to the financial statements.
