Structure, governance and management

Type of governing document

The charity is a Scottish Charitable Incorporated Organisation (OSCR). It was set up on 14th February 2017. It has a single tier structure and the trustees who are also the organisation's only members, comprise the organisation's board. The charity has a Constitution Document that governs our operating principles and outlines our purpose and objectives.

Trustee recruitment and appointment

On the date of set up, there were 3 trustees (including the founder [REDACTED]). Another trustee was recruited by the Board in June 2017 and one of the trustees stepped down due to other commitments during Sept 2017.

Another of our trustees stood down due to additional commitments in Dec 2020, and we then took on a 3rd.

We are now operating with 3 trustees (including the founder, [REDACTED])

We are open to welcoming new trustees and welcome a number of additional people who offer their help.

Objectives and activities

Charitable purposes

The organisation is established for charitable purposes only, and in particular, the objects are:

to advance the saving of lives by:

- ~allowing anyone that has lost someone they love, or is suffering from mental health issues, to share acts of kindness, love, hope and inspiration
- ~the charity will encourage acts of kindness, including, but not limited to, showing kindness to others, smiling at others, contacting friends, leaving random messages or gifts, popping into a home or hospital to shared stories with residents, or by simply writing on one of the LoveLeigh cards that are provided by the charity.
- ~providing kindness boxes and guidance on how being kind can save lives to promote and raise awareness of support available for those suffering with poor mental health:

- ~helping with the advancement of mental health by holding dedicated days that are designed to encourage the public to carry out random acts of kindness to help those who may be in need, and also to raise the awareness of mental wellbeing.
- ~to raise awareness on how to approach and deal with identifying those that may need help and provide signposting to other support networks. The charity will work with some of these networks to share advice, guidance, support and fundraising opportunities
- ~providing education and awareness days in schools across Scotland, working with teachers and pupils to encourage early awareness of mental well-being, and encouraging everyone to use kindness to help others.

Summary of the main activities in relation to these objects

We continue to manage our community Facebook page and other social media channels. The community Facebook page has provided a platform for many of members and non-members to get in touch for life saving help. We continue to work with other charities to strengthen this network

We now have an updated website which has also been an effective way of encouraging people to get in touch to help fundraise, but also to get the help that they really need.

This reporting year has been another quite one due to other work commitments for all trustees. However, there has been a lot of interest coming from students taking part in the Youth Philanthropy Initiative (YPI)

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the financial period

Kindness packs have been streamlined again, to make them easier to make up and distribute. These were initially made-up using letterbox packaging to save costs and making delivery simpler, however, these are now being priced on weight, making them more expensive. It is now better to use larger boxes to maximise the contents for users.

We continue to work with several schools who participate in the Youth Philanthropy Initiative (YPI). Once again, this has raised the profile of what we do and generated many messages from students who needed to reach out for help. The process of getting schools involved has also raised the much-needed awareness of how students can behave differently to each other to improve mental health and drive down the likelihood of self-harming or suicide because of bullying.

The balloon pins are still very successful in raising awareness and these are being re-purchased for kindness packs and awareness sessions.

We continue to informally team up with a couple of SCIOs, to pass on those who need specialist help that they can provide. Between us, we have successfully helped several community members who are now being supported on a regular basis.

Work on the new kindness and mental health booklet paused due to other time commitments for Trustees and volunteers but will be re-started in Autumn 2025.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner	The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) 2005 Act and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. The charity trustees consider that the audit requirement of Regulation 10(1) (d) of the Accounts Regulations does not apply. It is my responsibility to examine the accounts as required under section 44(1) (c) of the Act and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.
Basis of independent examiner's statement	My examination is carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeks explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and, consequently, I do not express an audit opinion on the accounts.
Independent examiner's statement	In the course of my examination, no matter has come to my attention
	1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:
	• to keep accounting records in accordance with section 44(1) (a) of the 2005 Act and Regulation 4 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations, and
	• to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with Regulation 9 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations have not been met, or
	2. to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
