Chairman's Report

It gives me great pleasure to present this year's Chairman's Report for the City of Inverness Pipe Band. The 2024-2025 season has been one of strong musical progress and continued growth across all sections of the band.

Both bands enjoyed a one of their best seasons so far, with consistent performances and encouraging results throughout the summer. The standard of playing continues to rise, and it is clear that the effort put in during winter practices has paid off.

It has been heartening to see strong attendance at practices from both pipers and drummers. The enthusiasm across the ranks has contributed greatly to our progress. The Grade 4B band, in particular, has developed extremely well this year.

In terms of governance, the unexpected return to the Chairman role in July 2025 has proven a challenge but I look forward to handing over to, and supporting your new Chair and continue to support the band.

Looking forward to 2025, a lot of work is needed, and I share the view of [REDACTED] at we have a challenging season ahead in terms of numbers and the competition scene.

In closing, I would like to express my sincere thanks to our Pipe Major, Leading Drummer, tutors, committee, and every band member for their hard work, loyalty, and support.

Pipe Major's Report

[REDACTED] xtended his thanks to [REDACTED] for the seamless transition on her uptake as Lead Drummer which helped to keep the band stable.

The 2024-2025 season brought in some good results and prizes with both bands making appearances at all the major Championships.

The highlight of the year being the British Championships in Forres where both the Grande 3A and Grade 4B band came third in their respective grades.

The 2024 season saw both bands competing across the whole spectrum starting with the local quartets competitions, and performances generally improved throughout the summer. Attendance across the band was stable throughout the season.

The end of the season through the winter however has seen some significant challenges, particularly in Grade 4B where other commitments have resulted in a loss of playing members. A core of 4/5 pipers remained consistent in practice attendance, but sadly this was not sufficient for us to put out a 4B band in the early part of the year, and the overall forecast for the summer of 2025 was that only one band would be able to perform.

Overall a successful year but we remain cautious for the following season.
