What the charity does: The charity was set up to organise recreational cricket in the North East of Scotland & to promote & develop the game in that area. We arrange and administer league, cup & other cricket competitions/events by liaising with member clubs & booking access to grounds with venue providers. We identify and develop additional suitable playing & training facilities. We support the development of new & existing clubs that promote cricket locally. We support the recruitment & development of players, coaches, match officials & other volunteers. We facilitate umpiring, scoring & coaching courses to encourage both newcomers & existing players to improve & share their knowledge. We promote the development of junior cricket, women's cricket & cricket for those with disabilities in alliance with national bodies. We aim to continue this work in what we consider to be the most inclusive of sports.
