- Trustee Report

During the 2024/2025 financial year, North Glasgow Integration Network operated in a challenging environment characterised by rising costs and increasing demand for services. The total income for the year was £73,522.20 largely from the Glasgow Communitas Fund. The trustees have exercised their responsibility for the governance of NGIN ensuring that resources were applied solely in furtherance of NGIN's purpose for public benefit.

The trustees identify that financial sustainability as a key continued annual challenge facing NGIN and other community organisations alike. During this period NGIN has relied on a 3-year restricted funding cycle, Glasgow City Councils, Glasgow Communities Fund. Challenges are compounded by increases in core operating costs such as premises, utilities and staffing, placing additional pressure on limited income.

During the year, demand for services increased, reflecting the ongoing impact of the cost-of-living crisis and continued pressures within the asylum and immigration system. Service users presented with increasingly complex needs, including destitution, housing insecurity, social isolation and difficulties accessing statutory services. This increase in demand placed significant pressure on staff and volunteers working within limited organisational capacity.

The Trustees also note challenges relating to capacity and compliance. Limited staffing required careful balancing of frontline delivery with essential governance, partnership working, and monitoring and reporting requirements. North Glasgow Integration Network to ensure long term organisational stability and governance undertook an extensive company policies and procedural review with GCVS support.

Despite these challenges, the Trustees are satisfied that North Glasgow Integration Network continued to deliver public benefit through the provision of accessible, community-based support. The Trustees acknowledge the commitment of staff and volunteers and recognise the ongoing importance of securing sustainable funding to support the charity's future stability and effectiveness.

Programme Information

Over the past year, North Glasgow Integration Network (NGIN) has delivered a wide-ranging programme of activities designed to support integration, reduce isolation and strengthen community connections for people from refugee and migrant backgrounds across North Glasgow.

Our Community ESOL classes remained a cornerstone of our work, providing accessible and supportive language learning opportunities that helped participants build confidence, improve communication skills and navigate daily life in Scotland. Alongside this, our community sewing groups and arts programmes offered welcoming, creative spaces where participants could develop practical skills, express themselves, and build friendships across cultures. These activities played a vital role in promoting wellbeing and social inclusion, particularly for women who may otherwise experience isolation.

One-to-one outreach casework continued to provide essential, tailored support to individuals and families facing complex challenges. This included assistance with housing, benefits, education, health services and digital access, ensuring participants could better understand their rights and access vital services. Our outreach work was often a first point of contact, helping people feel supported and empowered during times of transition.

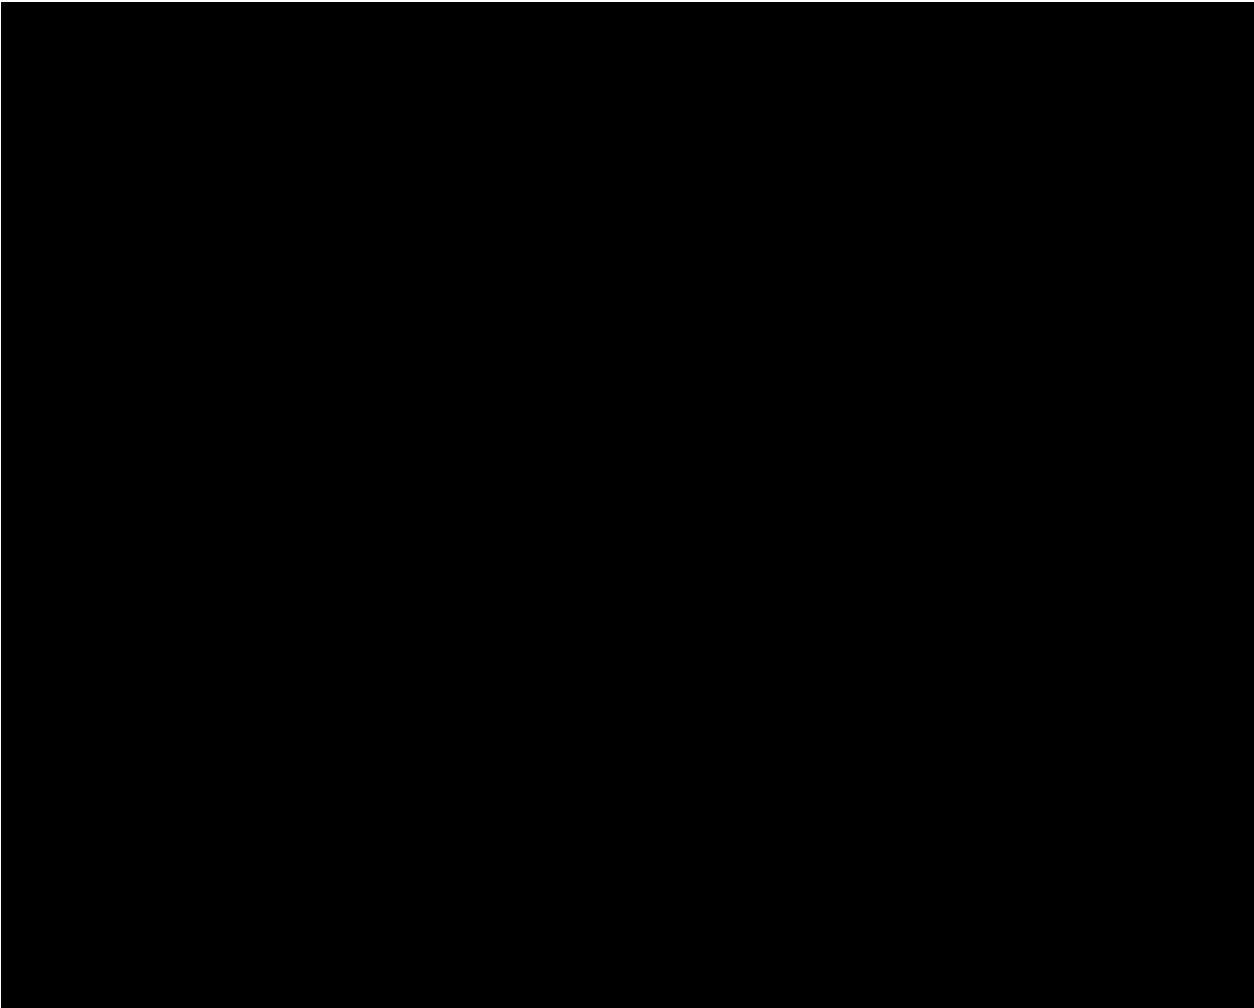

Throughout the year, we also delivered a range of community-building events, including family summer day trips and cultural celebration events, which explained cultures, encouraged participation and created shared experiences for people of all ages. Our Children's Christmas Appeal brought joy to families during the festive period, while our ongoing foodbank support helped address immediate hardship and food insecurity.

Together, these programmes demonstrate NGIN's commitment to practical support, community cohesion and meaningful integration.

Programme in numbers

- ESOL (English for Speakers of Other Languages) classes delivered: 75
- ESOL attendee numbers across all sessions: 828

With a delivery of 75 ESOL classes across the year and welcoming a total of 828 learners, we are averaging 11 learners to each ESOL class delivered. We would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the ESOL tutors that we have had the pleasure of working with. Without the support of our partners at Glasgow Kelvin College, Glasgow Life and City of Glasgow College, our ESOL classes would not be possible.

- Sewing Group Sessions: 9
 - Sewing attendee numbers across all sessions: 93

With a delivery of 9 sewing group sessions, all of which took place in the first quarter of the year (1st April to 30th June) we welcomed a total of 93 attendees, averaging 10 attendees for each session.

- Community Arts Group Sessions: 31
- Community Arts numbers across all sessions: 318

With the delivery of 31 community Arts sessions, all of which took place from the second quarter (1st July to 31st March) we welcomed a total of 318 attendees, averaging 10 attendees for each session. Our community arts groups would have been possible without the support of the many extremely creative and talented freelance community artists.

- Foodbank voucher codes issued: 806

Access to food is a basic human right, yet many people in the community continue to experience food insecurity due to poverty, rising living costs, insecure immigration status, and barriers to accessing public funds.

With support from our partners at The Trussell Trust, the ability of NGIN to provide food bank support is therefore a vital part of its work to promote dignity, wellbeing, and social inclusion. Food bank referrals often represent a critical intervention at a moment of crisis, helping individuals and families to meet immediate needs while preventing further harm to physical and mental health.

During the 2024/2025 financial year, we issued 806 food bank referrals, highlighting both the scale of need within the community and the trust placed in NGIN as a first point of support. This assistance not only addresses hunger but also creates opportunities for engagement, advice, and onward support, enabling people to stabilise their situations and work towards longer-term solutions.

- Outreach Casework Support

Our Outreach Casework programme plays a crucial role in supporting families and individuals facing complex barriers to stability, inclusion, and wellbeing. Many individuals supported by NGIN experience poverty, insecure housing, language barriers, trauma, or restricted access to public funds, and require tailored, one-to-one assistance to navigate essential services.

The Outreach casework NGIN provides is personalised support, meeting people where they are and responding to urgent and longer-term needs. Over the course of the year typical supports provided include help to access welfare benefits, housing and homelessness services, advocacy with statutory agencies, and support to register with GPs and other health services.

our Caseworkers also assist with immigration-related signposting, crisis interventions such as food bank referrals, and emotional support during periods of stress and uncertainty. By building trust and offering consistent guidance, NGIN's Outreach Casework programme helps individuals to stabilise their circumstances, reduce isolation, and move towards greater independence and integration within the North Glasgow community.

As we reflect on 2024/2025, we are proud of the impact North Glasgow Integration Network has made in supporting individuals and families across our communities. This year has demonstrated the strength of our values in action, as we responded to increasing levels of need with compassion, resilience, and determination. Through our advice, outreach casework, food bank support, and community-based activities, we have helped people navigate crises, access essential services, and take meaningful steps towards stability and inclusion.

We recognise that this year has also brought significant challenges. Rising living costs, ongoing pressures on public services, and the continued impact of poverty and inequality have placed immense strain on the people we support. Despite these pressures, our staff, volunteers, and partners have shown remarkable commitment, adaptability, and care.

Looking ahead to the coming year, we remain optimistic. Guided by the voices of our community and strengthened by our partnerships, we will continue to develop responsive, inclusive services that uphold dignity and promote opportunity. With continued collaboration and support, we are confident in our ability to meet future challenges and to keep building a more just, welcoming, and resilient community.
