Activities

Activities: 'It carries out activities or services itself'

Purposes: 'the prevention or relief of poverty', 'the advancement of education', 'the advancement of health', 'the advancement of citizenship or community development'

What the charity does: Bridgeton CAB SCIO is set up to provide the advice, information and representation that people need. to ensure that they do not suffer through lack of knowledge of their rights and responsibilities or of services available to them, or through an inability to express their need effectively and to improve policies and practices that affect people's lives. We do this by listening to the needs of our communities and our clients and providing accessible, quality advice to anyone that needs it.

Beneficiaries: 'Children or young people', 'Older People', 'People with disabilities or health problems', 'No specific group, or for the benefit of the community'

Objectives: The Bureau is established for charitable objects and purposes only and, in particular, the Bureau is established for the purpose of benefiting the community in the Operating Area and elsewhere by:- a. the advancement of education- by providing clients with information, clarification and understanding of legislation and their legal rights and responsibilities. b. the relief of poverty- by assessing clients' entitlement to welfare benefits and assisting clients in pursuing their proper entitlement and, by doing so, ensuring that they do not suffer unduly from poverty or lack of available financial support. c. the advancement of human rights- by ensuring that people do not suffer through ignorance of their human rights and through education attempting to obtain redress and ameliorate or eliminate injustice. d. the advancement of health- by providing a comprehensive advice service which deals with all aspects of clients' problems and alleviates the stress and anxiety caused by unsolved problems. and e. the advancement of community development- by recruiting, training and developing local citizens to be volunteer advisers in the Bureau who in turn assist members of the public in their community and in doing so contribute to the development of their community.

Structure, governance and management

Type of governing document

SCIO Constitution

The structure of the Bureau consists of:- the Members - who have the right to attend members' meetings (including any annual general meeting) and have important powers under the Constitution; in particular, the Members appoint people to serve on the Committee and take decisions on changes to the Constitution itself; and the Committee- who hold regular meetings and generally control the activities of the Bureau; for example, the Committee is responsible for monitoring and controlling the financial position of the Bureau.

Trustee recruitment and appointment

At each AGM the Members may elect any Member who is willing to act as such as a Trustee. A Trustee so appointed shall hold office only until the next following AGM. The Committee may co-opt any individual whom the Trustees reasonably consider appropriate as a Trustee provided that individual is willing to act as such. A co-opted Trustee shall vacate office at the end of the next AGM following their appointment but shall be eligible for co-option for a further period expiring at the next following AGM. A Trustee who retires at an AGM may, if willing to act, be re-appointed. If he is not reappointed, he shall retain office until the AGM appoints someone in his place, or if it does not do so, until the end of the AGM. If not re-appointed at such AGM, he shall vacate office at the conclusion thereof. 51 Notwithstanding the other provisions of this Constitution, the Committee shall at all times comprise a majority of Trustees who: 51.1 are not remunerated for providing services to, or on behalf of, the Bureau; and 51.2 do not benefit from any remuneration for the provision of such services by a Connected Person. 52 No person may be appointed as a Trustee:- 52.1 unless he has attained the age of 18 years; 52.2 unless at the date of his appointment to such office he is a Member, declaring that a Trustee co-opted by the Committee under Clause 49 need not be a Member at the date of his appointment; 52.3 in circumstances such that, had he already been a Trustee, he would have been disqualified from acting under the provisions of Clause 59. 53 The names of all persons elected or co-opted as Trustees shall be noted in the Minutes of the relevant AGM or Committee meeting (as the case may be).

Objectives and activities

Charitable purposes

The Bureau is established for charitable objects and purposes only and, in particular, the Bureau is established for the purpose of benefiting the community in the Operating Area and elsewhere by:- a. the advancement of education- by providing clients with information, clarification and understanding of legislation and their legal rights and responsibilities; b. the relief of poverty- by assessing clients' entitlement to welfare benefits and assisting clients in pursuing their proper entitlement and, by doing so, ensuring that they do not suffer unduly from poverty or lack of available financial support; c. the advancement of human rights- by ensuring that people do not suffer through ignorance of their human rights and through education attempting to obtain redress and ameliorate or eliminate injustice; d. the advancement of health- by providing a comprehensive advice service which deals with all aspects of clients' problems and alleviates the stress and anxiety caused by unsolved problems; and e. the advancement of community development- by recruiting, training and developing local citizens to be volunteer advisers in the Bureau who in turn assist members of the public in their community and in doing so contribute to the development of their community. Where the purposes and objectives of the Bureau are being promoted out-with the Operating Area, the Bureau may work with organisations with similar aims but shall at all times adhere to the agreed principles for the operation of a Citizens Advice Bureau as set out from time to time by the Scottish Association of Citizens Advice Bureaux 8 The Bureau may do anything which is calculated to further its Principal Objects or as may be incidental or conducive to furthering its Principal Objects or any of them including, but not limited to, any of the following:- a. providing clients with information, advice and practical assistance, as is requested by individuals who consult the Bureau, where available and appropriate; b. obtaining, collecting and receiving money and funds by way of contributions, donations, legacies, grants and any other lawful method, and accepting and receiving gifts of property of any description (whether subject to any special conditions or trusts or not); c. procuring to be written, printed, published, issued and circulated gratuitously or otherwise any reports or periodicals, books, pamphlets, leaflets, or any other documents; d. arranging and providing for or joining in arranging and providing for the holding of exhibitions, meetings, lectures and classes; e. promoting, encouraging or undertaking organised research and experimental work and disseminating the results of such research; f. affiliating to any institution having Charitable Purposes only and acquiring and undertaking all or any part of the assets, liabilities and engagements of any such institution which the Bureau may lawfully acquire; and g. entering into such leases of property on such terms and conditions as may be approved by the Committee.

Summary of the main activities in relation to these objects

Bridgeton CAB SCIO has not carried out any activities during the period owing originally to COVID pandemic and a delay in transferring assets and liabilities from the unincorporated Bridgeton Citizens Advice Bureau.
