Activities

Activities: 'It carries out activities or services itself'

Purposes: 'the advancement of education', 'the advancement of environmental protection or improvement'

What the charity does: Our aim is to establish tree nurseries and productive orchards, primarily in 4 schools in the Zambezi Valley Zambia. Kabwadu, Mafungautsi, Gota-Gota and Chiawa. The orchards will be used by the schools to produce fruit for their own use whilst the nurseries will provide saplings at no cost for reforestation in denuded areas.

Beneficiaries: 'Children or young people', 'No specific group, or for the benefit of the community'

Objectives: The organisation's purposes are: 4.1 To promote environmental protection in the Lower Zambezi Valley in Zambia by replanting denuded areas to regenerate natural habitat and strengthen ecosystems against drought and the effects of climate change. 4.2 To improve the environment for residents of target villages by increasing tree density in order to provide shade, and shelter from wind in the immediate area around homes and schools. 4.3 To provide education on environmental protection within schools by working with local educators, and providing the tools including tree nurseries to enable pupils to actively participate in reforestation of their local area.

The Re-Green Project Annual Report

Year ending 30th September 2025

SC049630

Treasurer's Report:

Available funding for future development of the existing site as well as prospective sites remains almost unchanged. There have been no new fund-raising activities in the year ending Sept '24.

Chair's Report:

As stated in the treasurer's report, there have been no new fund-raising activities in the year ending September 2024, due mostly to the personal and work commitments of the trustees. The difficulty in securing larger scale funding streams is the single biggest obstacle to establishing orchards in schools other than the site at Gota-Gota.

The trustees feel that a good way to raise the charity's profile would be to establish a link with local Scottish schools and the schools in the Lower Zambezi Valley to raise awareness of our activities among pupils and parents.

To this end, we are proposing a 'Partner Tree' program whereby a tree is planted at a Scottish school at the same time as a tree is planted at a school in Zambia. The Chair will contact the headteachers of local schools to discuss how this might be achieved. Initially, a partnership between Kabwadu School (Zam) and Blairgowrie High (Sco), and Gota-Gota (Zam) and Newhill Primary (Sco) have been proposed, but this can be widened to cover Alyth and Rattray locally to partner with Mafungautsi and Chiawa schools in Zambia if uptake is positive.

The importance of planting 'partnered' trees will be to emphasize the connected nature of our shared world and should fit well into the Global Citizenship part of the Curriculum for Excellence.

Further to the 'Partner Tree' program The Re-Green Project would like to revisit the idea of collaborating with other charities in Zambia as well as Scotland. The Chair has attempted to contact the organization 'Plant-a-Million' in Zambia in the past with no success. I will, however, try again to elicit a response from this group as they are active on the ground in Zambia and could offer good opportunities for collaboration.

Further to establishing links with Zambian organizations, there are local tree planting charities doing great work in Scotland with whom the Re-Green Project could collaborate. Tayside Woodland Partnerships is a group that is very active locally and could offer a route into a shared funding scheme, as there is more funding available for local schemes than international ones in our experience.

We continue to look for a new trustee to help primarily with fundraising activities.
