- Workshops and Mental Health Training: Providing essential skills and knowledge through structured sessions.
- Group Wellbeing Sessions: Creating safe spaces for self-expression, connection, and joy.
- SUSO Boys 2025 Project: A social development program specifically for boys aged 8-18 from ethnically diverse backgrounds. This initiative focuses on emotional literacy, life skills, confidence-building, community engagement, and peer mentorship to foster mentally strong and socially aware young men.
- SUSO 2024 Programme (Girls): Building on previous success, this programme continued to engage young girls, creating a vital support network and fostering community connections.
- Healthy Minds Project 2025: This project aimed to help families explore and resolve relational dynamics, applying systemic principles to understand inherited patterns of interaction and communication. It facilitated constructive dialogue and worked towards breaking cultural taboos surrounding family mental health.

Achievements and Performance

The year has seen significant achievements and positive impacts across all our programmes:

SUSO Boys 2025 Project: This new initiative is set to build a generation of confident, mentally strong, and socially aware young men, with anticipated outcomes including a reduction in educational struggles and improved mental health.

SUSO 2024 Programme (Girls): The programme achieved an incredible turnout, engaging between 24 and 42 young girls per session, with over 55 young people registering interest. This demonstrates the high demand and the trust built within the community. Feedback has been overwhelmingly positive:

- One parent shared: "Team Baba Yangu, I can't find enough words to sum up the dedication and passion you have given every week to our girls. The impact, the memories, and the experience is something they will carry in their hearts forever."
- Another parent noted: "Thank you Team Baba Yangu for a great six weeks and an amazing Cultural Day"

Healthy Minds Project 2025: This project successfully fostered deeper understanding, open communication, and stronger family relationships. Testimonials highlight its impact:

- [REDACTED] a participant) stated: "I think this program should reach more communities and include more sessions. Families are breaking down, and these discussions are so important."
- [REDACTED] son added: "It was good to hear different perspectives and see my own feelings reflected in my family. I learned more about my mom, and I want to keep talking."

Challenges faced and how they were managed: A key challenge identified was the overwhelming demand for services, as seen with the SUSO 2024 programme needing to cap participation due to staffing and costs. This highlights the critical need for continued funding and capacity building to meet the growing needs of the community.
