The Trustees are pleased to present their report and the financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2025

Objectives and activities

The principal objects of the charitable company are as follows:

- To be parent-led and to organise parents with lived experience, supporting and advocating for other parents when they need support & help with their children when involved in the child welfare and child protection system.
- To provide individual support, information, advice, and advocacy to parents in the Scottish welfare and child protection system, especially those with children who are in care, at risk of care, or who have exited care.
- Developing an understanding of how child welfare systems affected both disabled children and disabled parents.
- Contribute to developing policy, practice, and law to promote the rights and interests of parents whose children are in care or at risk of care.
- Provide evidence to support reducing the rate of children being removed unnecessarily from their families and about the kinds of services and approaches that help families avoid separation.

The main activities undertaken during the year concerning the above objects were:

- We have managed to continue to deliver a wide range of services and support for parents.
- Throughout the year, we provided individual online and telephone/text/FB/WhatsApp advice for parents across Scotland.
- We provide group support in Edinburgh
- We offered individual advocacy and support for families in Edinburgh, South Lanarkshire, Fife, and Orkney, including attending LAAC Reviews, Child Protection Conferences, and remote and in-person hearings, and in contact with social workers for their children
- We supported parents to submit their own reports to Children's Hearings and to call review hearings to end or vary the terms of supervision orders,
- We continue to support parents in complaining and forwarding complaints to the Care Inspectorate and the SPSO.
- We continue to use the Robertson Trust grant to fund our two Development Leads - [REDACTED].

- We have applied for funding from Corra to be matched by the Edinburgh Drugs and Alcohol Partnership to develop a peer-led research project for mothers and female carers affected by substance misuse in Edinburgh.
- We have applied for funding from the Community Fund to develop a training programme and materials for PAR Trustees and volunteers.
- We remained members of FPAN, contributing to meetings and network development across the UK.
- We continue to be part of the Advisory Group for CELCIS Research funded by the Nuffield Foundation: Non-Compulsory Care for Children and Young People Scotland: Learning from the Experience of S25.
- We updated our Facebook page and engaged with parents on public and private pages.
- We continued to engage with Promise and contributed to Sheriff Mackie's review of the hearings. We have been disappointed by Promise's failure to acknowledge the importance of parents' and families' views, which we believe are often heard but do not influence outcomes and recommendations.

Complaints

We received no complaints.

Financial Review

Income is derived from voluntary donations from individuals, including the families of mothers we have supported, and from grant-making trusts—current Board of Trustees and plans for future development. We have received a three-year term grant from the Robertson Trust for November 2022-November 2025 to pay for development work to ensure the future of PAR and its work. This focuses on infrastructure issues, improving governance, and future financial independence and viability. Our plans for 2024-2025 include applying for funding from Corra, Community Fund, Barchester Trust, Volant Trust and Scottish Women's Fund.

Statement of Trustee's Responsibilities

The Board of Trustees is responsible for keeping proper accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended). They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and, hence, for taking reasonable steps to prevent and detect fraud or other irregularities. The Board of Trustees is responsible for maintaining the integrity of the corporate and financial information on the charitable company's website. Legislation in the United Kingdom governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

In so far as the Trustees are aware:

- There is no relevant audit information of which the charitable company's auditor is unaware, and
- The trustees have taken all steps that they ought to have taken to make themselves aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the auditor is aware of that information.
