Activities

Activities: 'It carries out activities or services itself'

Purposes: 'the advancement of education', 'the advancement of health', 'the advancement of citizenship or community development', 'the advancement of public participation in sport'

What the charity does: To further safety, health and wellbeing through a well-known traditional Chinese martial art - Wing Tsjun Kung Fu and other empowering tools. To contribute to the community by building the resilience and strength and wellbeing of its most vulnerable members. To further the education of young people by offering them qualifications pathways and leadership skills. The WOMANity Project: is dedicated to women's self-defence and offers free regular classes, workshops and one-to-one sessions. We work in partnership with many women's organisations to reach as many women as possible. The Young Lead Project: is an educational pathway for young people, who design their own activities. They want to contribute to the community and bring a smile on people's faces. They are very much involved in delivering the non-violence message to their peers. They call their youth group - SUSsed - A Youth Group with an Attitude - SUS stands for 'Stop Underage Stereotypes'.

Beneficiaries: 'No specific group, or for the benefit of the community'

Objectives: 4 The organisation's purposes are: a) The advancement of the education of children, young people and adults so they may cultivate a healthy, moral and confident lifestyle. b) The advancement of health through the provision of regular martial arts classes. c) The advancement of citizenship or community development allowing participants to contribute constructively to the community at large. d) The advancement of public participation in sport through seminars, open days and an ambition to encourage as many people as possible to participate in martial arts.

Main activities – regular classes promoting safety, health and wellbeing, and community projects in response to the needs identified.

In the period 1 April 2024 to 31 March 2025, Wing Tsjun Scotland SCIO delivered over 1000 regular martial arts/self defence classes for children, young people and adults, and continued to deliver and develop community projects aimed at disadvantaged groups in society, such as women affected by domestic abuse, families struggling in poverty and bad health and young people facing social challenges.

Achievements and performance

Safety and wellbeing, health and community development were at the core of all our activities in this period, and with the support from our funders and members we delivered the following long-term projects and consolidated the youth club:

1. WOMANity Project

With renewed support from the Robertson Trust in its fifth year and The Glasgow Mental Health and Wellbeing Fund in year 3 (distributed by GCVS), this project, aimed at young girls and women, delivered 42 weeks of activities for women only, 80 regular Wednesday classes, 82 Saturday sessions and 10 Sunday workshops, reaching over 500 women.

We have continued to strengthen our partnerships to other grassroots local organisations throughout this period and maintained our commitment to fresher's week in the Universities and all the special events dedicated to women.

This project has always been shaped by the women taking part, so we recruited 4 more volunteers and ambassadors to support and strengthen the project.

Last year we had identified Govanhill as being an area with very high statistics of poverty and, linked with it, gender-based violence, and after delivering a series of WOMANity sessions there, we are delighted to announce that we have received further funding, this time from the Volant Trust to ensure that we can continue to do our invaluable work there.

2. Children's Holiday Camps – we have been delivering holiday camps for 7 years now, and with the continued support from Glasgow Children's Holiday Food Programme we have established a reliable service that includes not just physical activity but also food – the most important element for many families affected by the cost-of-living crisis. During 3 school holiday breaks, we have provided thousands of meals to 198 children. We are one of the few organisations in the South of Glasgow providing all day holiday camps with meaningful activities and focus on nutritious food.

3. SUSsed - A Youth Group with an Attitude

Our delivery of the youth project funded since Dec 2023 by the National Lottery Awards for All and Essentia Foundation continued throughout this accounting period, consolidating the project, bringing new members in, shaping up the project and allowing the young people to express themselves and their wishes. Three young people panel meetings took place, where the direction and the ethos of the group took stronger shape.

The need of 2 distinct age groups activities became evident, and in the future we will aim to accommodate them, and further funding applications will reflect the findings of the pilot year.

Final considerations

We are very grateful to our funders, our board members and everyone else who supported us this year. Each contribution has made a difference in our local community, with many families reporting improved wellbeing and resilience.

With an incredible team of professionals and dedicated people we aim to continue to navigate the difficult landscape of the third sector, with the wellbeing, safety and health of our community as our main goals.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) 2005 Act and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. The charity trustees consider that the audit requirement of Regulation 10(1) (d) of the Accounts Regulations does not apply. It is my responsibility to examine the accounts as required under section 44(1) (c) of the Act and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement

My examination is carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeks explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and, consequently, I do not express an audit opinion on the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement

In the course of my examination, no matter has come to my attention [other than that disclosed on the attached page*]

1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with section 44(1) (a) of the 2005 Act and Regulation 4 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations, and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with Regulation 9 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations

have not been met, or

2. to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
