Objectives and activities

Reviving Souls is an initiative which aims to bring about revival through the realisation of Islam, Iman and Ihsan. This revival begins internally with the soul and encompasses every aspect of the human experience. It is manifested in the Prophetic Way of knowledge, devotion and service.

Reviving Souls is based in Edinburgh, Scotland but we welcome with open arms anyone from any background in any corner of the world.

Over the last year, the charity has held in-person and online events focused on the Islamic calendar.

Structure, governance and management

Type of governing document

The Charity is a Scottish Charitable Incorporated Organisation (a SCIO). It was registered in its current legal form on 30th November 2021. The charity was previously an unincorporated association but changed its legal form to a SCIO. It has a single tier structure and as such the trustees are the members of the charity.

Trustee recruitment and appointment

The management committee, which normally meets each month, is formed of the charity's trustees and other volunteers. Membership of the management committee is open to interested members of the community.

Trustees are elected at the annual general meeting which is held in October. There must be a minimum of three and a maximum of five trustees.

The charity holds in-person and online events focused on the Islamic calendar.

Financial review

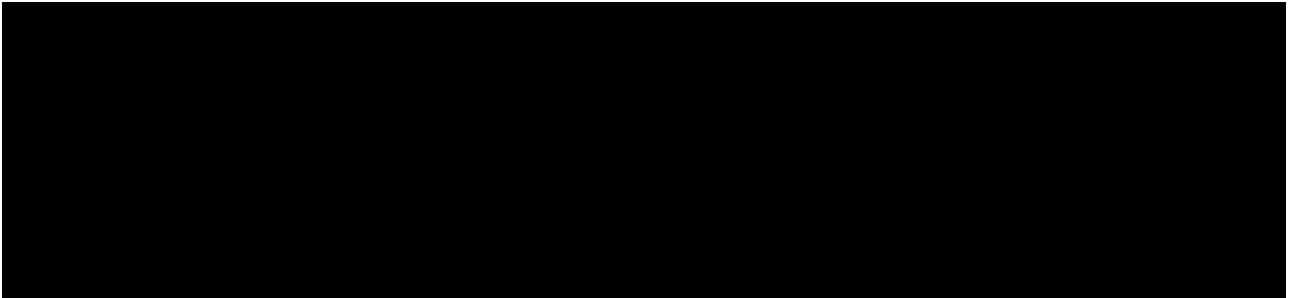

Although the charity has been active through the year, no income was received in the year. Thus, there is no income or expenditure to report.

Future plans

We will continue to offer the in-person and online classes in the coming year. Our plan is to open a bank account so that we can start receiving donations to cover future operational costs. We have chosen the Co-Operative Bank and we will begin the application process soon.
