The Trustees are pleased to present their report together with the Accounts of the charity for the year ended 31 May 2025.

Status of Charity and Governing Document

RTN TV SCIO (also referred to as “the SCIO” or “the charity”) was established by Constitution and registered by the Office of the Scottish Charity Regulator (“OSCR”) on 20 May 2022 as a Scottish Charity No. SC051746.

Trustees

The Trustees who served during the year and to the date of this Report are shown on page 1.

Appointment of Trustees

Trustees are appointed, retire and reappointed in accordance with the provisions as outlined in the SCIO Constitution. The appointment procedure and induction process ensures that the charity comprises Trustees who have appropriate qualifications, areas of expertise and experience, and who are clear about their role. As part of their induction programme, new Trustees are required to understand their statutory responsibilities.

Organisational structure

The Trustees are responsible for the overall direction of the charity and serve on a voluntary basis. They meet regularly throughout the year to monitor performance, review key developments and ensure that appropriate systems and controls are in place to safeguard the charity’s assets and reputation.

Charitable purposes and activities

The purposes of the charity can be found in Section 4 of its Constitution and include the advancement of the Christian faith to a global audience which, in practical terms, is achieved using an internet platform to disseminate Bible teaching and education alongside sourcing and producing suitable programme content and arranging conference events.

Achievements and Performance

Significant highlights, events and developments of note both during the accounting year and in the current year include the following:

During the year

- the Trustees continued to develop and strengthen the charity’s digital broadcasting infrastructure in furtherance of its charitable purposes. The principal focus of activity during the year was the enhancement of technical capability, platform reliability and audience reach across RTN TV and its associated media services.
- a structured programme of server and application upgrades was undertaken to ensure that the charity’s systems remain aligned with current industry standards in relation to performance, security and operational stability. These upgrades were necessary to safeguard service continuity, reduce the risk of disruption and provide a scalable platform capable of supporting future growth.
- a rebuild of the charity’s online radio platform (<https://christianradio.io>) and modernisation to current technical standards which enabled the introduction of live broadcasting functionality. This enhancement materially improved the charity’s ability to deliver timely content and expand listener engagement.
- the onboarding of additional broadcasters to the video platform. This involved technical configuration, access management and practical support to ensure compliance with platform standards. Increasing the number of broadcasters contributed to content diversity and broadened the charity's output.

- live streaming and technical broadcasting support was provided for conferences held in Scotland and England, delivering events to a global online audience on behalf of platform providers. These broadcasts extended participation beyond physical venues and strengthened the charity's international digital reach.

Since the year end

- investment in essential broadcasting equipment, including two Apple Mac laptops and professional microphones to support content production and live broadcasting. The new equipment was configured with appropriate broadcasting software to ensure operational consistency and production quality thereby strengthening the charity's technical capacity and a reduced reliance on outdated equipment.

The Trustees consider that the above activities have materially strengthened the charity's technical infrastructure and operational resilience with a strong foundation for sustainable development.

Future Plans

With digital modernisation having been identified as a priority, a key focus will be the upgrade and redevelopment of the charity's mobile applications which were originally built in 2020 and before the charity's formation. These applications require updating to align with current operating system standards, performance expectations and user requirements. Planned redevelopment is expected to improve audience accessibility, enhance reliability and increase supporter engagement, including improved interaction for donors accessing the charity's content via mobile devices.

The charity also intends to secure additional general operational support to assist with ongoing platform management including support with content uploads, video processing and compression, and other technical functions necessary to maintain smooth streaming performance and consistent service quality. Strengthening operational support is expected to enhance efficiency and ensure the charity can maintain high standards of delivery as activity expands.

The Trustees are committed to developing the charity's broadcasting capability in a sustainable and responsible manner in furtherance of its charitable purposes.

Financial Review

Principal sources of funding

The charity receives its funding by way of donations from viewers, listeners and supporters.

Results for the year

Per the Statement of Receipts and Payments on page 6, the charity reported Net Receipts (i.e. a Surplus) of £2,828 for the year ended 31 May 2025 (2024 - Surplus £3,730).

Reserves Policy

The Trustees' policy is to maintain Unrestricted Funds at a level sufficient to meet the charity's annual operating costs. At 31 May 2025, Unrestricted Reserves per the General Fund on page 7 amounted to £6,558 (2024 - £3,730) which represent the total donations received by the charity since its formation. Given the charity's infancy and nil expenditure to date, the level of unrestricted reserves was acceptable to the Trustees.

Independent Examiner’s Statement

In the course of my examination, no matter has come to my attention
