Objectives and activities

Provident is a 100 year old sailing vessel. It's historical importance is recognised by being a part of the National Historic Fleet. This is the highest level of recognition as defined by the National Historic Ships organisation.

In the past Provident has been operated by charities or clubs which helped to provide sailing opportunities for people who may not ordinarily have access to this type of experience.

Provident is now owned by Angels Share Sailing Holidays Ltd. a company that operates holiday voyages aboard the boat, mainly on the Scottish West Coast.

The company is a tiny operation with limited finances and administrative resources.

The Company Director [REDACTED] want to continue the tradition of Provident being a provider of great experiences for less affluent or less able people. Their main focus is necessarily on operating the boat in order to make a modest living and to be able to maintain the boat in a good and safe condition.

The charity was set up to try to raise money and to be able to offer these experiences to a broader range of people.

During the period covered by this report a modest amount of fundraising has taken place by encouraging paying guests to make small donations.

The charity intends that in future these funds and funds raised from other sources can be used to provide such opportunities. It is anticipated that this will be in collaboration with other organisations. For example with providers of sail training experiences.

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) 2005 Act and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended). The charity trustees consider that the audit requirement of Regulation 10(1) (d) of the Accounts Regulations does not apply. Basis of independent examiner's statement

My examination is carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeks explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and, consequently, I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement

In the course of my examination, no matter has come to my attention [other than that disclosed on the attached page*]
