It champions inclusivity and togetherness, ensuring the centre is a safe and supportive environment for everyone. This ethos underpins all activities and is the guiding principle behind the centre's development and planning. There exists an ongoing commitment to cater for as many different demographic groups as possible. The programme of activities is constantly evolving, shaped by feedback from the community and the changing needs of our population. This approach ensures that everyone, regardless of age or background, can find something of value at the centre. Encouraging a spirit of volunteering and partnership within the Community is a priority. The Trust employs a Development Officer and Centre Coordinator to ensure that the Community feels supported and welcome.
