Activities

Activities: 'It carries out activities or services itself'

Purposes: 'the advancement of education', 'the advancement of environmental protection or improvement'

What the charity does: The Charity, when officially launched, aims to acquire smaller parcels of land, especially near watercourses, between 10 and 250 acres. These sites provide ideal conditions for the natural return of indigenous animals, birds, plants, and insects. Smaller areas are more affordable and will allow the Charity to secure more locations across the UK, creating a broader, more diverse network of habitats. Once acquired, we will end harmful practices, monitor biodiversity, and follow best rewilding methods. We will collaborate with universities, schools, and wildlife groups to support research and ecological restoration. Education is central to our mission, and we will engage the public through our website, media, events, and site visits to build long-term support for ecosystem recovery and wider environmental awareness. Although it is taking longer than expected, we strongly believe the Charity will be launched in 2026.

Beneficiaries: 'No specific group, or for the benefit of the community'

Objectives: Purposes 4.1 The advancement of environmental protection or improvement. Mankind is destroying the natural environment at an unprecedented rate, wiping out countless species and biodiversity in the process. Unless we do something about this, our children will inherit a much-diminished world devoid of many of the spectacular species and habitats that we have had the privilege of enjoying. This destruction must be halted, and nature given help and space to recover. The Blue Planet Rewilding Initiative has been established to ensure it is. Its purpose is to promote for the benefit of the public the restoration of the natural environment, ecosystems, and biological diversity. 4.2 The advancement of education. To educate the public about the damage that mankind has done to the natural environment and biodiversity, and the benefits that will accrue to it from restoring the natural environments and biodiversity we have lost.

Independent Examiner's Report to the Blue Planet Rewilding Charity for the period ended 31st March 2025.

I report on the accounts set out on pages 1 - 2.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner:

The charity trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. The charity trustees consider that the audit requirement of Regulation 10(1)(d) of the Accounts Regulations does not apply. It is my responsibility to examine the accounts as required under section 44(1)(c) of the Act and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement:

My examination is carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeks explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and, consequently, I do not express an audit opinion on the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement:

In the course of my examination no matter has come to my attention which:

- 1) gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:
 - a) to keep accounting records in accordance with section 44(1)(a) of the 2005 Act and Regulation 4 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations, and;
 - b) to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with Regulation 9 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations.

have not been met, or;

- 2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper
