

Bottles for good has not traded this year, so accounts are at zero.

We are awaiting the relaunch of the government scheme with the new government after the elections to see if we can proceed or need to look at winding down.