Activities

Activities: 'It carries out activities or services itself'

Purposes: 'the advancement of the arts, heritage, culture or science'

What the charity does: The charity has opened an art gallery in a busy central location in Glasgow. There artists of every kind can exhibit and sell paintings for a small rent and low commissions, without having to go through interminable processes involved in even being considered to exhibit in a traditional gallery. The artists who volunteer to look after the space and can use it as a painting studio at the same time. Artists can meet and exchange ideas. The public can see artists at work and meet with them. There is an informal meeting space in the gallery provided for this.

Beneficiaries: 'No specific group, or for the benefit of the community'

Objectives: 4 The organisation's purpose is the advancement of the arts by: (a). The provision of a public space where people in Glasgow and surrounding area can come to create, exhibit, volunteer, meet other artists and develop their skills. A safe space to create art, reduce loneliness and enhance a sense of community. (b) Providing the public access to art and artists who are exhibiting and creating their work, encouraging an appreciation for art, its creation, and inspiring people to participate. (c). For the public benefit, the opening of a civic space for the arts in a Glasgow central retail area, where shop fronts are closing, and destination experiences are on the rise. (c). For the public benefit, the opening of a civic space for the arts in a Glasgow central retail area, where shop fronts are closing, and destination experiences are on the rise.

Summary of the main activities in relation to these objects

(a) The charity acquired a shop unit in the St Enoch Centre in February 2025 at a very advantageous rate of 10% of monthly turnover, however with the provision that if any business wanted the unit at full rent, we would be obliged to leave the premises. The unit included a seating area for artists and the public to meet and converse. (b) The unit opened in March, exhibiting artists work from the local area. The artists and volunteers in charge of the unit for the day were painting and creating at easels and tables, encouraging the public to watch and even participate. (c) The unit is vibrant and colourful, with curated music, encouraging the public in to view the art and stay for a while, enjoy the atmosphere, and appreciate the unusual phenomenon of artists at their work, in a shop unit that might otherwise be empty.

APPENDIX 1

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the financial period

First and foremost the acquisition of a premises. The Charity was founded on the 14th March 2024, and it took 10 months of searching and communicating to find a suitable unit. 4 weeks were spent renovating the premises with trustees and volunteers.

Donations were used to fund the renovations. Finally at the beginning of march 2025 the gallery opened to the public. the reception was immediate and positive, including the staff and management at the Enoch centre, who were delighted at the colour and life it brought to the mall.

Over the next few months the gallery began to acquire more and more artists exhibiting their work, paying a small rent for wall space and low commission rates on sales.

After 3 months the gallery began to break even and show a small surplus.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner	The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) 2005 Act and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended). The charity trustees consider that the audit requirement of Regulation 10(1) (d) of the Accounts Regulations does not apply. It is my responsibility to examine the accounts as required under section 44(1) (c) of the Act and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.
Basis of independent examiner's statement	My examination is carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeks explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and, consequently, I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts.
Independent examiner's statement	In the course of my examination, no matter has come to my attention 1. The records have been kept in a professional manner 2. They have adhered to their mission statement and core objectives
