TRUSTEES' ANNUAL REPORT

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30 APRIL 2025

Constitution and Structure

Scottish Bame Women is a Scottish Charitable Incorporated Organisation (SCIO), established under a constitution dated 1 April 2024. The organisation is governed by a Board of Charity Trustees who also act as members. The Board controls the activities, strategy, and financial position of the organisation and operates in accordance with the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005.

The Board consists of a minimum of 3 and maximum of 7 trustees. Office-bearers include a Chairperson, Treasurer, and Secretary, elected by the trustees.

Objectives and Activities

The charity's purposes are:

- The advancement of health
- The provision of recreational facilities and activities

During the year ended 30 April 2025, the charity focused on activities aligned with these purposes, supporting community wellbeing and engagement. The Board ensured that all programmes and initiatives contributed directly to these charitable objectives.

Governance and Decision Making

Trustees meet regularly, either in person or remotely, with a quorum of three trustees required for decisions. Decisions are made by majority vote, and proper minutes are maintained.

Trustees are required to act in good faith, with care and diligence, and in the best interests of the organisation at all times.

Conflicts of interest are declared and managed in accordance with the constitution. Trustees do not receive remuneration for their role, although reasonable expenses may be reimbursed.

Financial Review

The Board is responsible for maintaining proper accounting records and preparing annual accounts in line with statutory requirements. Financial systems and controls are in place to ensure transparency and accountability in the use of funds.

All income and expenditure during the year has been applied solely towards the charitable purposes of the organisation, in accordance with the constitution.

Risk Management

The trustees actively consider risks to the organisation, including governance, financial, and operational risks. Appropriate measures are taken to mitigate risks and ensure compliance with legal and regulatory requirements.

Trustees' Responsibilities

The trustees are responsible for ensuring that proper accounting records are kept and that annual accounts are prepared. They must also ensure that the organisation complies with all applicable laws and the provisions of its constitution.

Declaration

The trustees confirm that this report has been approved by the Board.
